Gordy Pratt and Dalyce Sellers combined their unique brand of Americana, music, comedy and virtuosic guitar performances to critical acclaim throughout the Midwest. The two bring together more than six decades of entertaining audiences, leaving them laughing and feeling good from concert stages, to corporate banquets and state fairs.

Called the "Victor Borge of the Guitar," Gordy mesmerizes audiences with his unique blend of world-class guitar playing and stand-up musical comedy. His fingers fly as he plays Bach and Bluegrass in the same breath, Mozart on "12 cups of good, strong cowboy coffee," and a foot-stomping turn of "Classical Gas." Gordy has shared the stage with Kenny Chesney, the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band and the Beach Boys to name a few. He has also performed on "Good Morning America" and on the Discovery Networks.

Dalyce Sellers is a born entertainer. From kindergarten on up she has been a performer for anyone who would listen. As a part of rock and roll bands like The Tracterz and Lip Service she opened for acts such as Huey Lewis and the News, the Violent Femmes, Bow Wow Wow and many others. Dalyce was inducted into the Iowa Rock 'n Roll Hall of Fame as part of the group Hot Rod Chevy Kevy.

The two combined forces in 2017 giving birth to a brand new family-friendly, character-driven comedy and music show. You're bound to meet Orville T. Saddlesore and his wife Ida Mae who offer up "Words of Western Wisdom." Or Joe California and wife Jan, a cool couple struggling to survive their first winter in the great white north; or Sven and Olga Norskipoop with their somewhat off-kilter musical take on everyday events. It's a family friendly show that engages and delights audiences of all ages.
